

SASP2019 ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Announcing the SASP2019 conference in Sydney (25-27 April, 2019)!

We are excited to announce that the SASP2019 conference will be held at the University of New South Wales in the Scientia Building. The conference will begin on Thursday 25 April (ANZAC Day) with postgraduate workshops in the morning and the full conference opening in the afternoon. Activities will continue right through to the conference dinner on Saturday 27 April, which will be held at Cruise Bar's Junk Lounge overlooking Circular Quay.

Our keynote speaker is Professor Kerry Kawakami from York University (Canada). Professor Kawakami is internationally recognised for her work on intergroup bias and ways to reduce stereotyping, prejudice, and discrimination. She is also the current editor of the Interpersonal Relations and Group Processes section of the Journal of Personality and Social Psychology.

Keynote Speaker- Professor Kerry Kawakami

The conference will also feature several award presentations (the John Turner Medal, the Outstanding Postgraduate Research Award, the Early Career Award) and social events. Please stay tuned for further information on the conference details, including the registration site and submission deadlines.

Note that the SASP-SPSSI small group meeting, "Advances in Intergroup Contact Research: Showcasing, Consolidating, Deconstructing and Innovating the Science of Social Integration" will be held in Newcastle from 29 April – 1 May 2019 (see separate announcement from the SASP-SPSSI small group meeting organisers).

We look forward to seeing you at SASP2019!

Khandis Blake, Lydia Hayward, & Rebecca Pinkus

The SASP2019 Conference Organising Committee

If you have any questions, please contact Rebecca Pinkus (rebecca.pinkus@sydney.edu.au)

Coogee Beach

UNSW Scientia Building

Cruise Bar's Junk Lounge