EASP Small Group Meeting

CO-PRODUCING AN AGENDA FOR A SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY OF PREFIGURATIVE POLITICS

9-11 September 2026

University of Klagenfurt, Austria

The meeting aims to encourage integration of prefigurative politics and social psychological research of societal transformation (e.g., collective action). Among other things, this involves discussing the need to incorporate the organic emergence of prefiguration, its enduring nature, and the inclusion of activists as co-producers of knowledge.

Both researchers working on prefiguration and those who would like to get engaged are welcome!

Organisers:
Frank Eckerle, Tijana Karić, Helen Landmann, Edward Clarke, Mete Sefa Uysal, David Clarke

CO-CREATION WILL START IN JANUARY 2026
